Instructions: Look at the advertisements on the screen. Choose two of them to do the following activity with. In the Say column, you are going to write down exactly what the words say on the advertisement, either word for word or paraphrased. In the Means column, you are going to write what you think the advertisement means, or in other words what the advertisement is trying to tell you. In the Matters column, write down why the advertisement matters in your life. For example, if you were to buy their product, what impact would that have in your life or in the world around you. Look at the example if you get confused.

Say	Means	Matters
Ex. Just Do It	Ex. With Nike products, you can do anything. You just have to go for it.	Ex. If I were to buy Nikes, I would have comfortable shoes, especially for athletic wear.
